A fan that, when in use, blows across the food preparation area, has dirt and grime build up and the FSM stated that s/he is unsure of the last time it was cleaned. Pitchers that are on the shelf and used for special occasions are stained, there is a white film on most of the storage containers and the pots and pans are with black soot. The stove is dirty and the staff interviewed at the time of discovery (11:50 AM) stated that s/he removes the burner plates every two days and replaces the foil that lines the stove under the burners. There are burnt egg noodles and spilled over "baking soda" (per the FSM). The deep fryer is found to have a build up of grease and old fried food bits and there are scoops in the storage bins for flour and sugar.
